At Woman's Club.

Warrington Dawson's lecture on "Experiences in the Roosevelt in Africa" yesterday afternoon at the Woman's Club was delivered to a large audience in spite of the inclement weather. Mr. Dawson is a very good speaker and his descriptions graphic.

Mr. Dawson is a very good speaker and his descriptions graphic. He described the conditions of the country and customs of the natives, with the most charming and humorous account of the excursion of the party in various directions. He dwelt particularly on the ease and freedom with which the Colonel, as they called the ex-President, joined in the conversation during the long hours around the camp fire after the day's sport, his coolness in time of danger and untiring energy on the long tramp. One instance cited was when a herd of angry buffaloes charged upon them. Mr. Roosevelt saving the lives of the party by his coolness and deliberative action. A great many animals were killed on the trip, particularly man-eating lions, which are a great menace to the country, and always a cause of great rejoicing among the natives when this beast is slain. Mr. Roosevelt himself killed only a specimen of each kind of animal, which have been sent to the Smithsonian Institute.

Altogether, the lecture was most interesting and entertaining, and Mr. Dawson made a very favorable impression.

And Soon Cured Perfectly and Economically—Doctor Called It Ecze-ma and Little Sufferer Rubbed and Twisted All the Time.

CUTICURA AGAIN PROVED "THE GREAT SKIN CURE"

"My baby boy was about nine months old when he had a breaking out on his neck which was very annoying. It used to make me very fretful and cross because it seemed to worry him so much. In the meantime I was sick myself. I had my doctor look at the baby and he told me it was eczema and he wanted to treat it. But a friend of mine told me she knew it could be cured cheaper than any doctor could do it for and in much less time. So I started using the Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment which I soon found out was what I ought to have had before, for the eczema seemed to itch so the baby could not keep his head still for he was rubbing and twisting all the time. I used the Cuticura Remedies about three times the first day and began to notice the good it was doing, for he began to rest from rubbing his neck. So I used three more times the Cuticura Soap and two boxes of Cuticura Ointment and now no one could tell that he ever had any kind of breaking out, and Cuticura Soap has been without the eczema and he is healthy and happy. Mrs. Lulu Dorey, 12 Browns Ct., B. W., Washington, D. C., Oct. 2, 1909."

Was the Cause of Much Suffering, that Cardui, the Woman's Tonic, Finally Relieved.

Third, it is a tonic, prepared especially for the use of weak women.

Fourth, it is a specific remedy for women's many ailments.

Fifth, it is easy to take, obtainable in any drug store, with full instructions for use, inside the wrapper.

WANTS TO EN SALE OF ILLICIT WHISKEY

District Attorney Moore Appeals to Federal and State Officers for Co-operation—Decrease in Number of Deputy Collectors.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] Roanoke, Va., January 31.—United States District Attorney Thomas Lee Moore has prepared a circular which is being sent to-night to all Federal and State officers in the entire Western District of Virginia, as well as to other points, desiring information and complaint of the illicit sale of whiskey in that territory. In this circular Mr. Moore explains that, owing to the decrease in the revenues in this large section, due to local option, the force of deputy collectors has been reduced to three or four men, who are charged with the duty of discovering and reporting people who are engaged in the illegal manufacture and sale of whiskey. These officers are required to police at least fifty counties in the State, and it is a matter of utter impossibility for them to properly cover the territory assigned.

It has been the policy of the district attorney to lend every assistance possible towards the suppression of the illicit traffic, but the Federal statute is a revenue measure, and one man obtains United States licenses, the jurisdiction of the Federal officers ends. In some cases the Commonwealth's attorneys of cities and counties and the district attorneys have co-operated so far as was possible to suppress these violations. State officers, as a general rule, are better able to suppress and detect this class of crime than the Federal authorities.

Circuit judges, under the Virginia Code, are empowered to provide a constabulary sufficient in numbers to enforce the law. This has been done in one county, with the result that one of the worst sections of the State for moonshining has been practically rid of the illicit sale of whiskey. This was accomplished by the appointment of a special constable.

Reports from Federal officers regarding enforcement in this community are in effect that they are better than ever before known, and show what can be accomplished by the co-operation of the State and Federal authorities.

Mr. Moore desires that when complaints of violation of the law are before his office that they are referred to the justice of the peace, commissioners of the revenue, sheriffs, deputy sheriffs, constables and other officers of the counties in which such violations occur.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] Lynchburg, Va., January 31.—E. B. Apperson, president of the Lynchburg Traction and Light Company, to-night announced a voluntary increase in the pay of the conductors and motormen to 2 cents an hour, the increase being 1 cent an hour.

ty, amounting to about 15 per cent., will be effective by April 1. Already notice has been given to many tenants by real estate agents that the increase will be in effect with the first of the coming month, while others are receiving notice that the change in their rent will not occur until March. Some rents were advanced on the first of the year. Both residence and commercial property will be advanced. The new assessments are a nightmare to the property owners, as they all expect a large increase in the values placed upon property in the city. The assessments are complaining, they claim to pay in proportion to the population, and the actual value of property rentals is out of proportion.

PROPERTY OWNERS RILED.

New Assessment Being Made in Bedford City Houses Indignant.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] Roanoke, Va., January 31.—The assessment of property valuations now being made in Bedford City is receiving all kinds of comments. Unless some relief is offered, the matter probably will be fought out before the courts, for it is certain that property owners there are not going to accept the increased assessments without a vigorous protest.
